Edit/new term view

Added button to generate test data to fulfill previously omitted requirement.

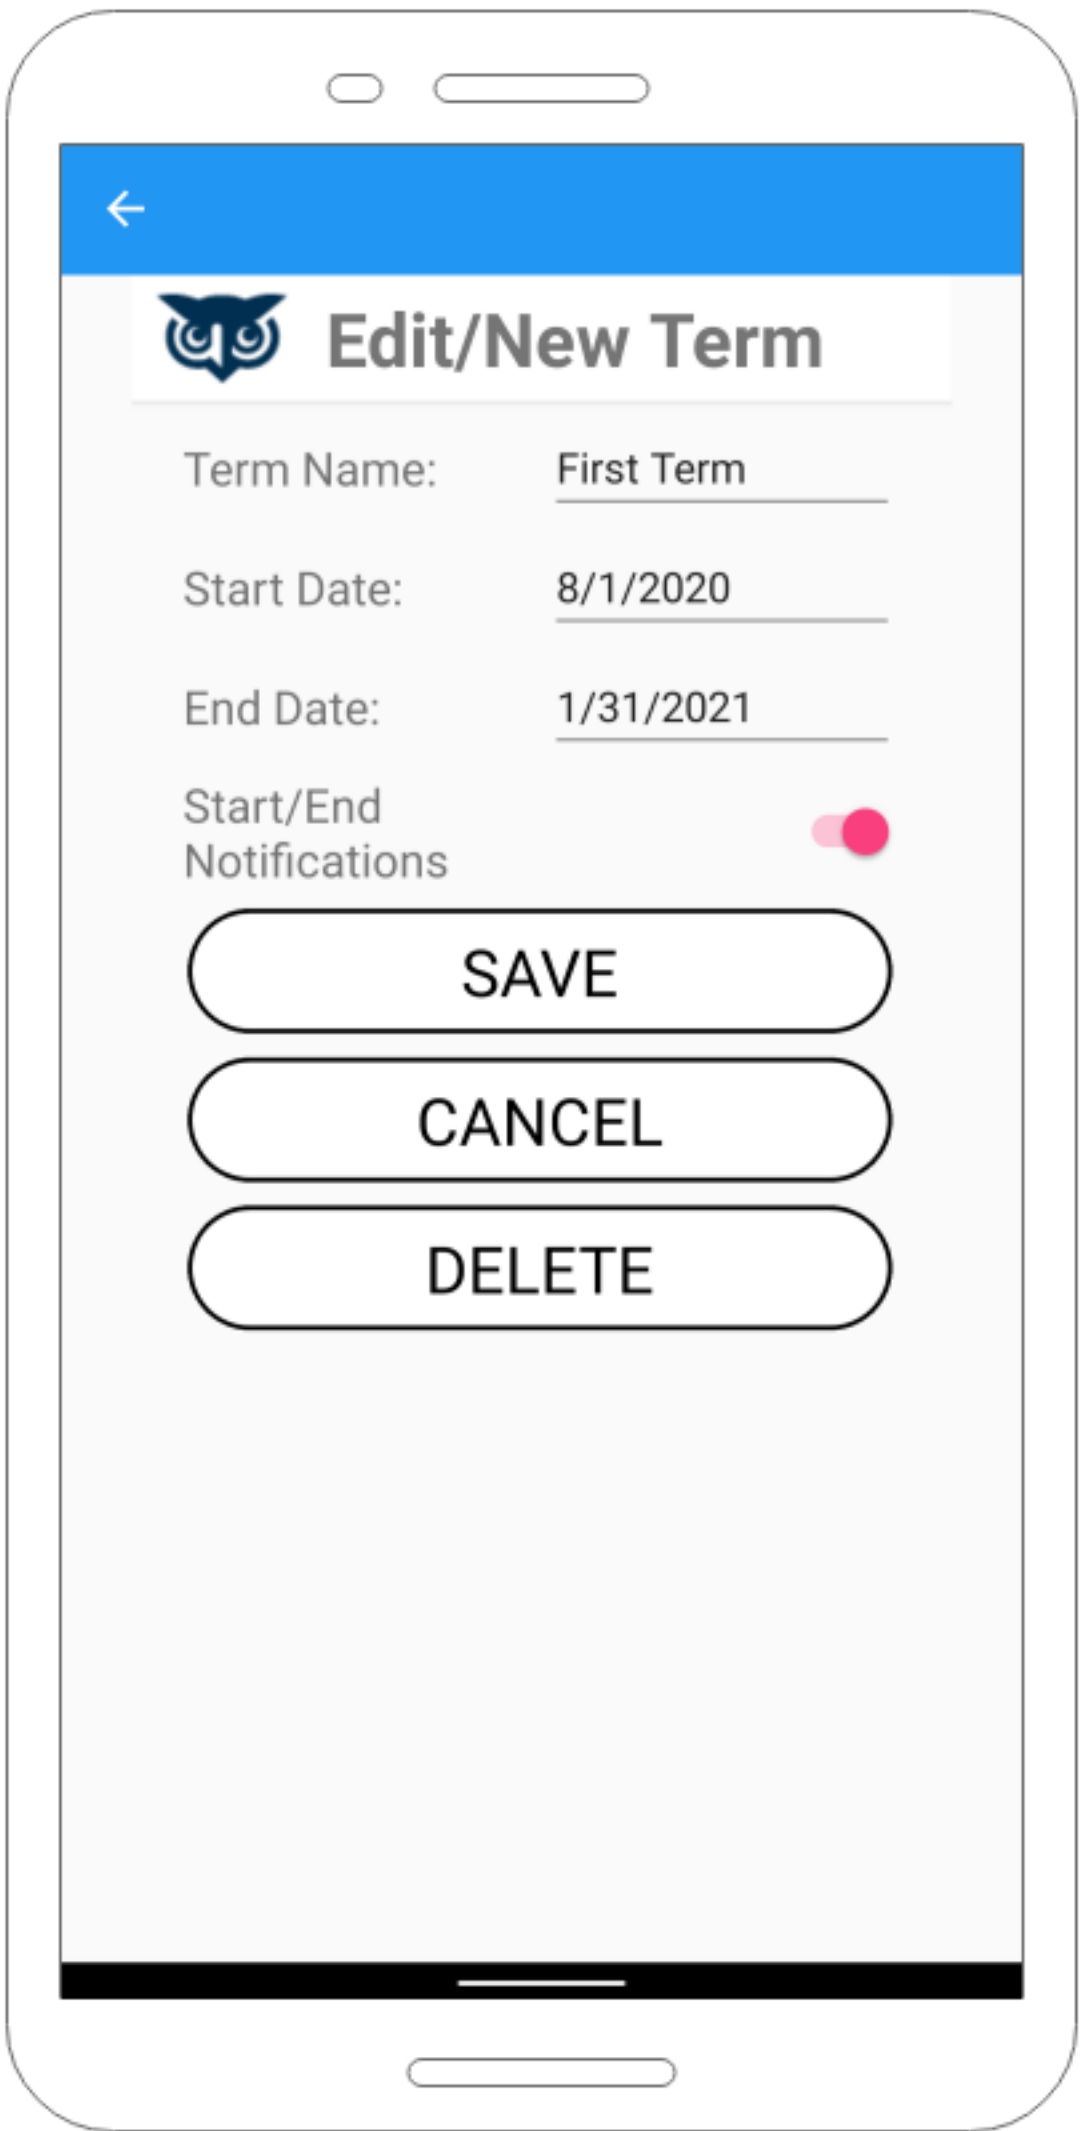

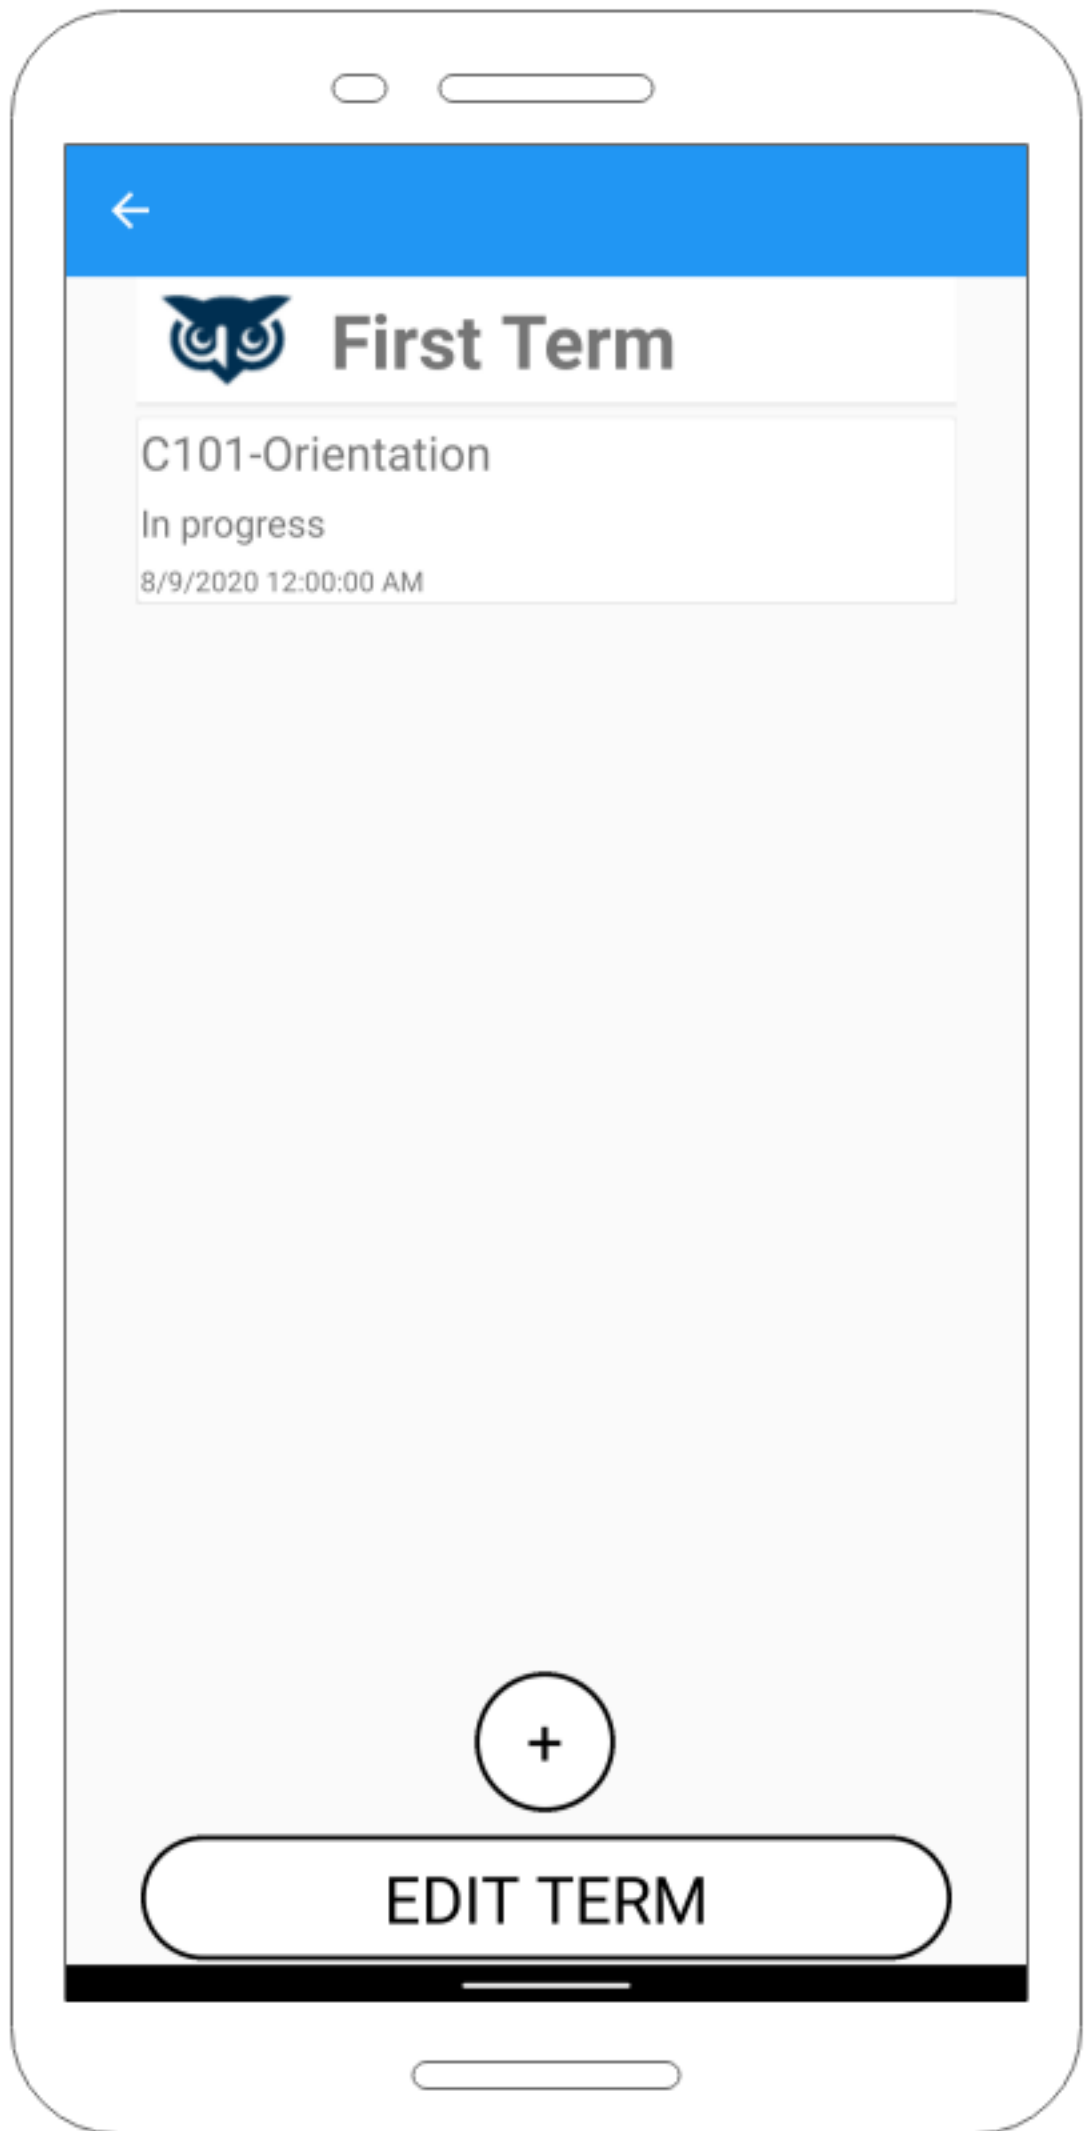

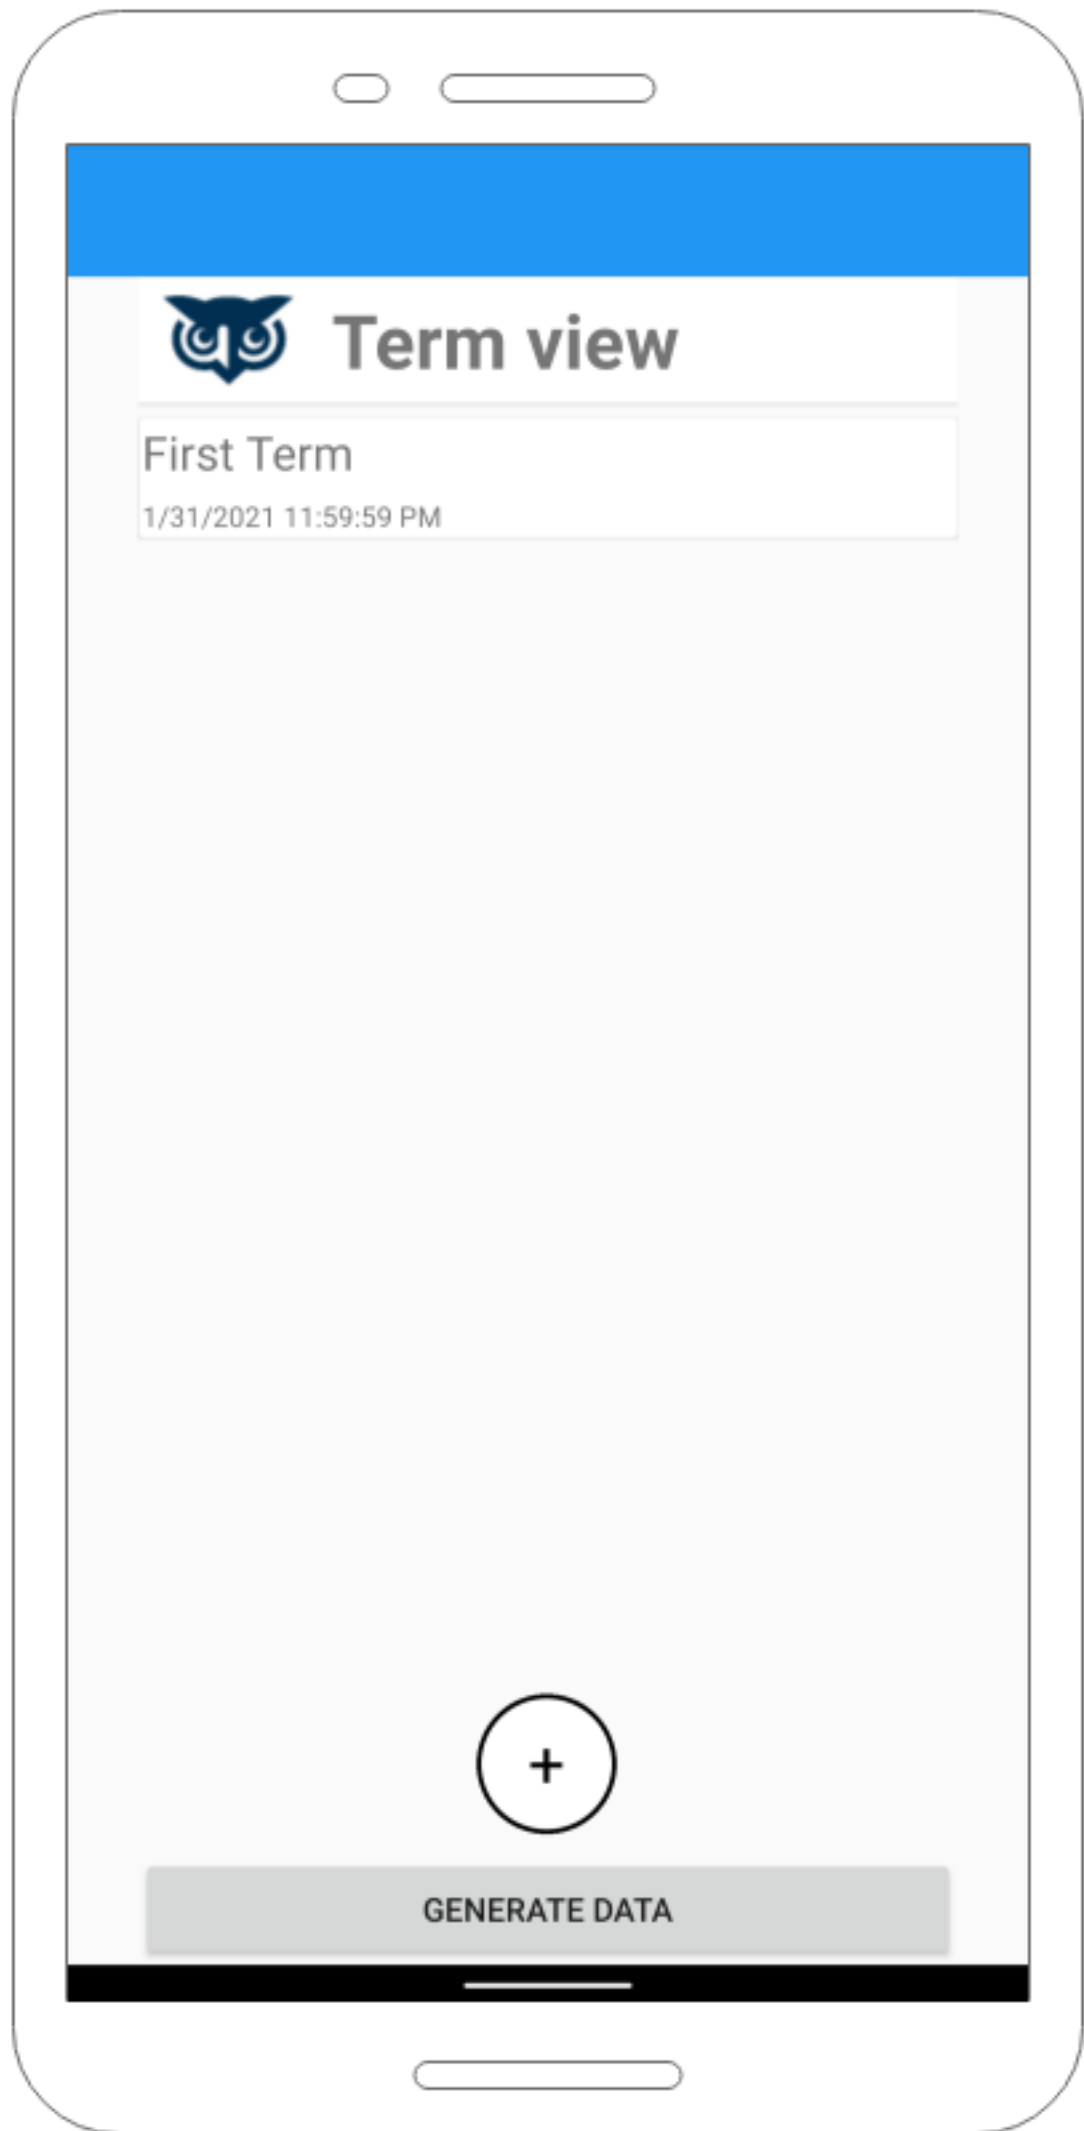

Removed all hamburger and settings buttons.

These turned out to not be necessary, as all functions are included as buttons.

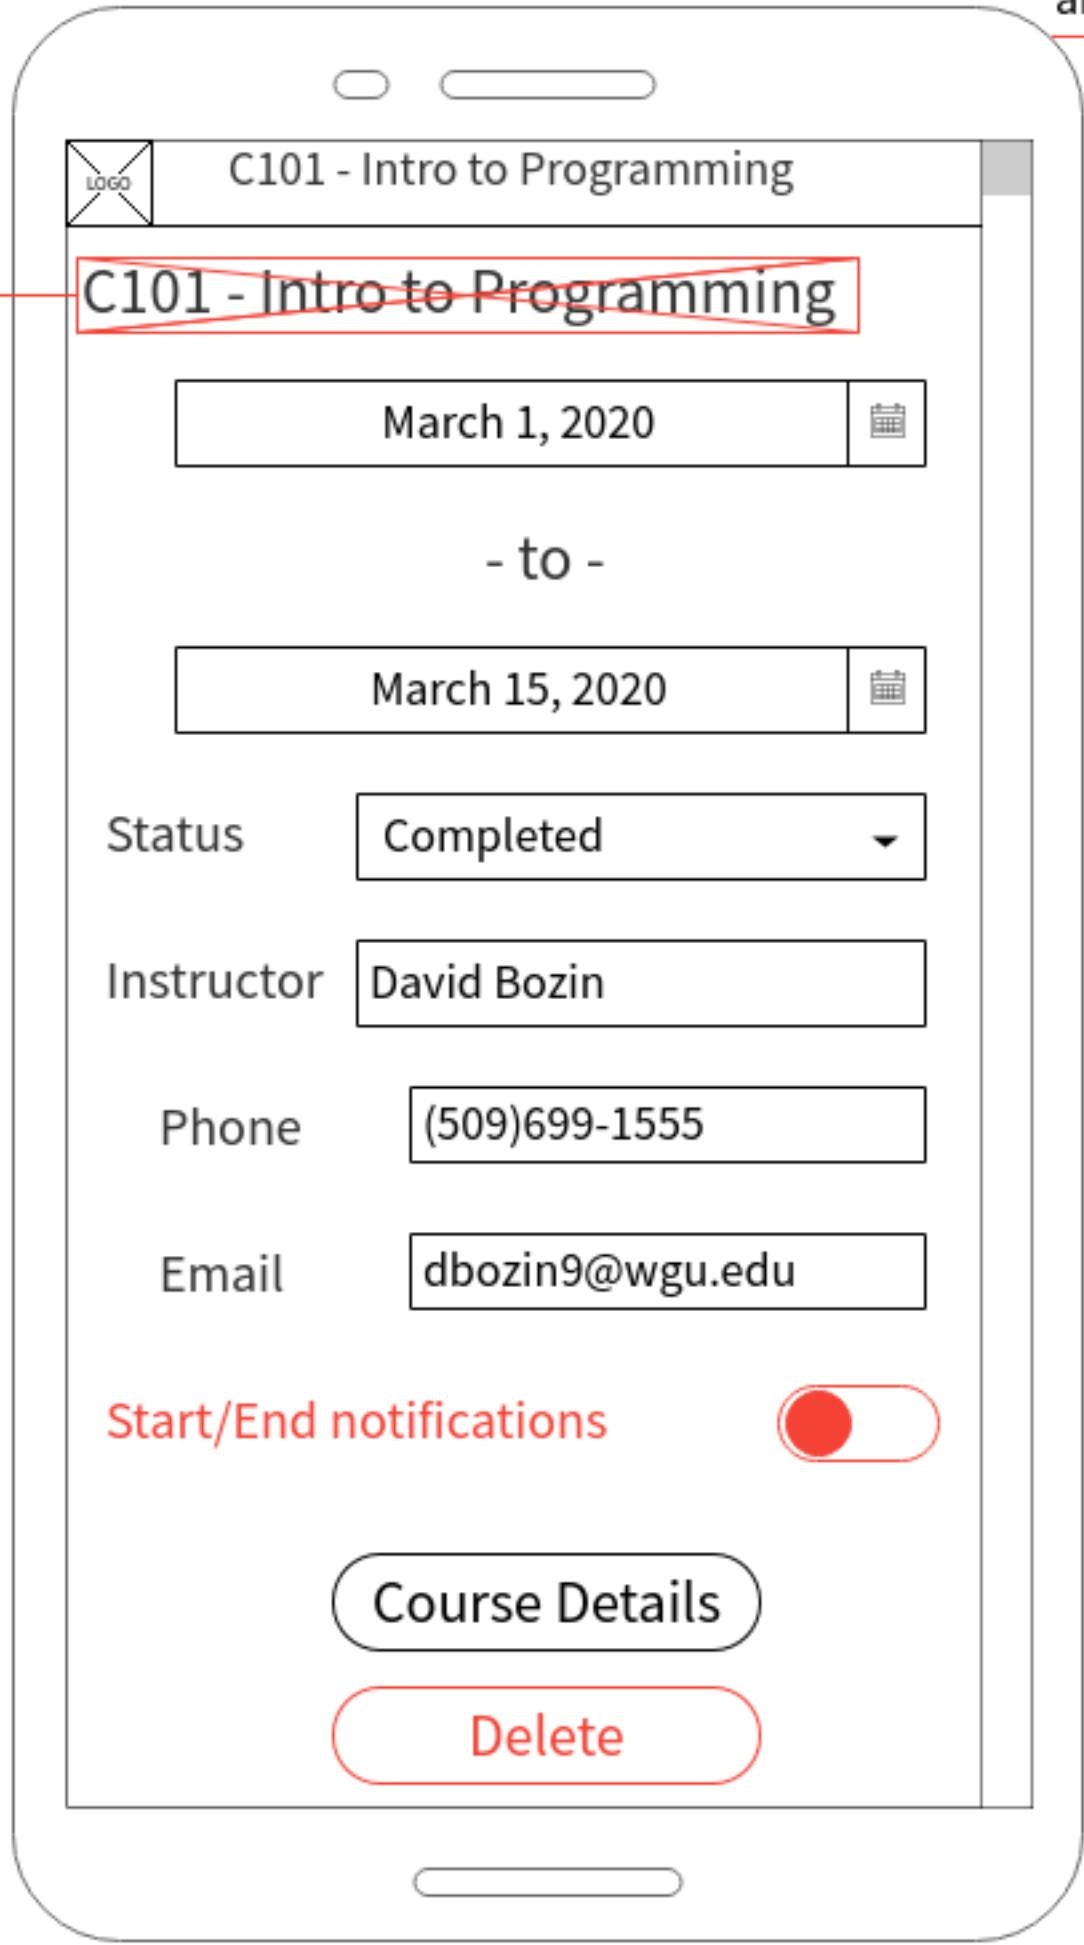

Added "edit term" button, replacing former settings button that was located in the top-right corner.

Added "delete" buttons for each edit page.

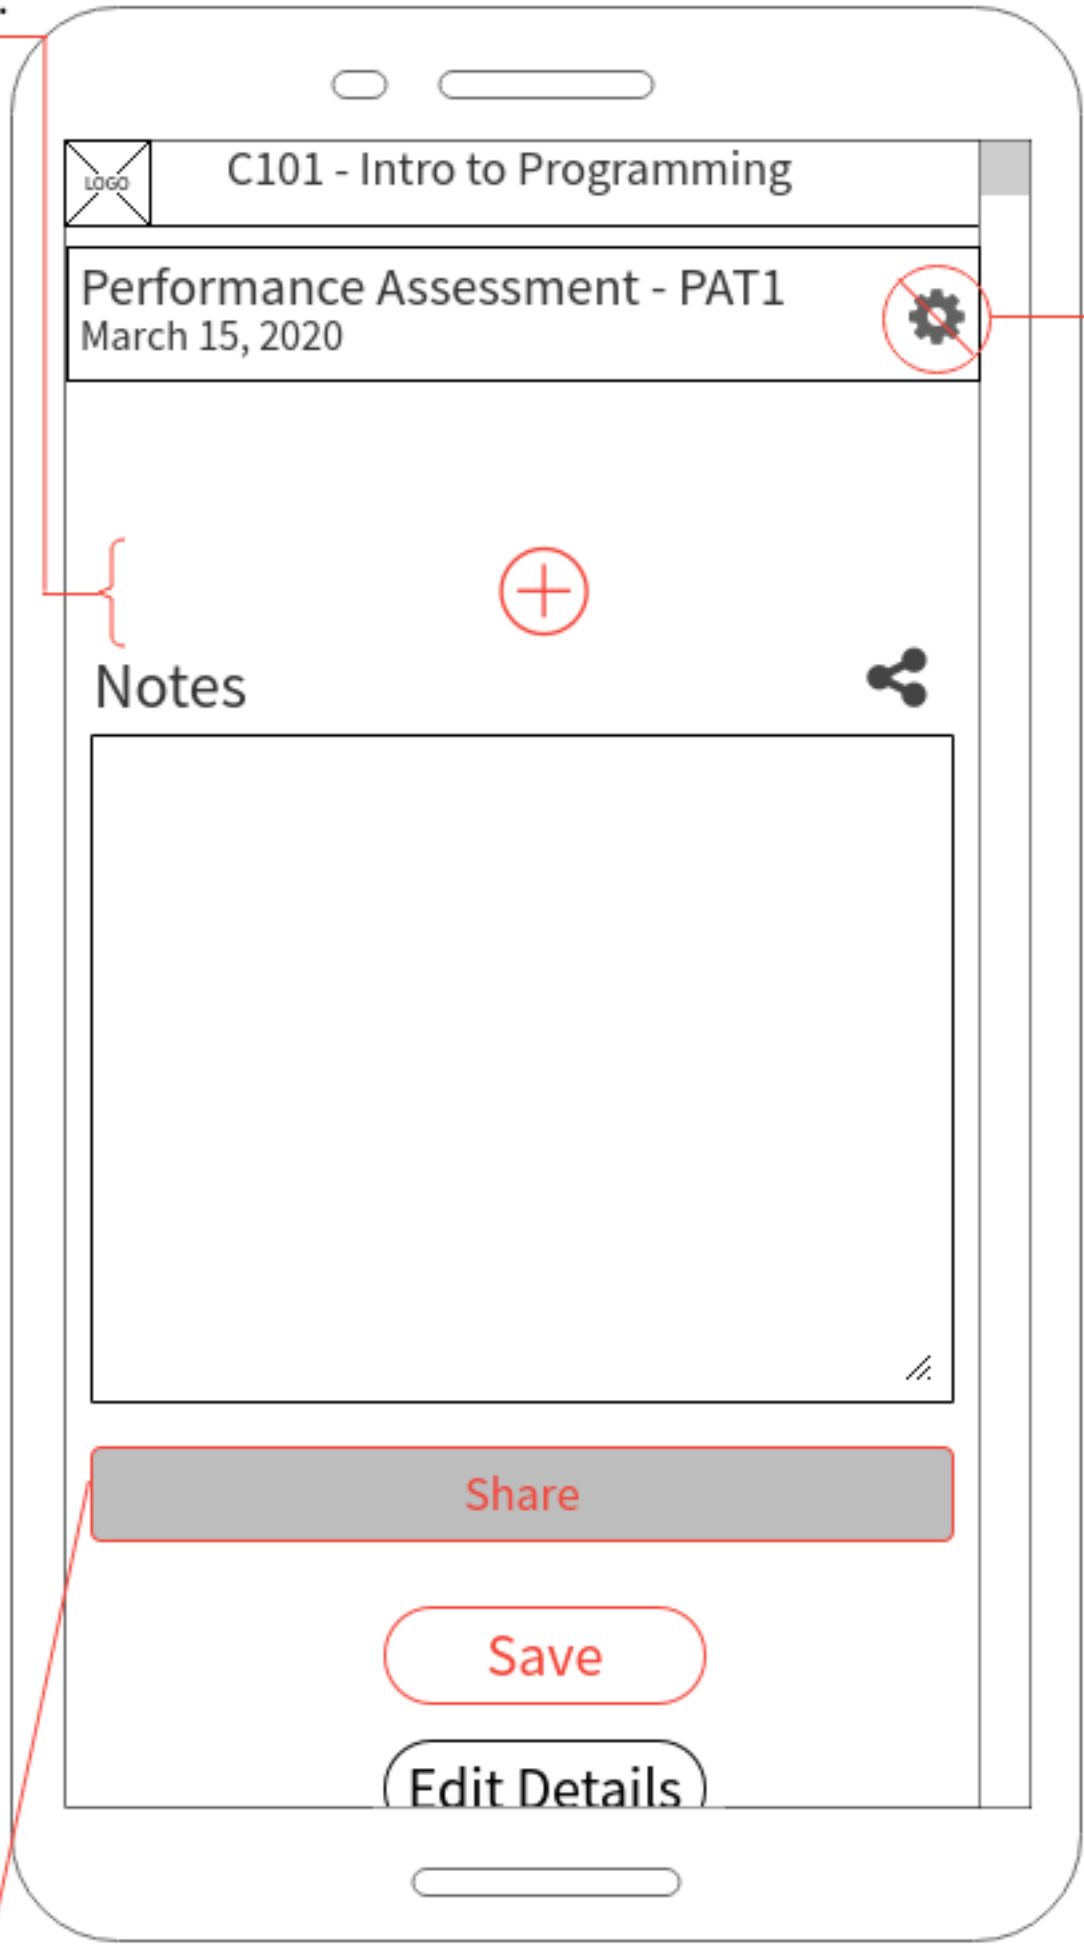

This was originally expected to be included in the hamburger menu, but was changed for simplicity.

Edit/new course view

Removed redundant course name.

Added "add assessment" button and increased space between assessments and notes.

Changed "share" button from icon to labeled button for simplicity. Using an image button would have added unnecessary complexity and an additional file to download.

Removed the per-item settings button. Instead a separate page, almost identical to the edit/new course/term pages, was created to fulfill this requirement.

This was done mostly for simplicity.

For new/edit pages, changed title text from name of term/course/assessment to function-descriptive phrase.

Also removed start/end dates for all pages.

Both of these changes were made for simplicity, and to de-clutter the UI a bit.
